The Prankster Gangsters

On Memorial Day 2016 I had some of my friends over from my hockey team, their names were Jack, Jackson and Axel. When they all got to my house we decided that we should do some hockey trick shots. We did some epic shots including a full length of the driveway baseball hockey shot that I did. After we finished with the trick shots we decided that we should prank my sister Devin and her friends. We set up base in my room and locked the door. Then we looked online to try and find some good pranks to use additionally to the pranks we came up with. The prank that we ended up using is where we took clear Saran food wrap and put in on my sister's toilet. We also taped a penny to her sink. So when she went to the bathroom she did not notice the Saran so her pee went everywhere and when she went to wash her hands water went everywhere. Me and my friends were watching a movie when all of this happened, we only know the story because my mom told us what happened.
