
Sports Cars

By: Alex Newman

Introduction

Do you like sports cars? Lamborghinis? Ferraris? There are tons of cool cars out there and I love just about every one. There are many reasons why I love sports cars but today I'm talking about other people and why THEY do. I think a lot of people love sports cars and here are a few reasons why.

They're Dangerous

People love sports cars because they can be dangerous. One time I was in a lamborghini and the guy who was driving was going 95 mph! It was really cool but I also felt like I was facing danger. According to Ken Newman, a sports cars enthusiast, he thinks sports cars are as dangerous as any other car, but they can be dangerous if the driver is careless with his/her car. According to Huffington Post, they quoted, "Sports Cars are cool because they can be dangerous which is appealing." They are dangerous because they go fast which could cause an accident.

Important Part Of Lifestyle

People love sports cars because they are an important part of our lifestyle. One time I was at a car show, the owners were showing their cars and starting the engines. I got to go in the driver's seat. It was cool how they made it so entertaining. According to Ken Newman, he thinks people think sports cars are cool because it makes them feel cool by driving one. He's right. According to StreetDirectory.com, they quote, "People think sports cars are important because there aren't that many left in the world."

They're Cool

People love sports cars because they're cool. One time I was at a car show and there were judges who were judging the cars and it was entertaining how you got to judge too. According to Huffington Post, they quote, "They are entertaining because they are dangerous." Also, according to StreetDirectory.com, they quote, "They're entertaining because they go fast and people like fast things." And that's talking about me. Pretty much, I love fast things.

Inside of a sports car.

Inside of Lamborghini.

Porsche in the rain.

Red McLaren.

Gold tire on BMW.

White Lamborghini.

Back of Lamborghini.

Red Ferrari.

Conclusion

Really, I think sports cars are amazing and very, so do many other people. We need sports cars or else a part of entertainment wouldn't be there. Sports cars show what we can make and how we can have entertainment with cars. So let's keep on going.