

Unique New York

by Christina Spence

Lets go!

Hey little fellas!

Let's catch a cab going this way...

or let's go this way...

Train's here...gotta go!

New York was one of the first 13 colonies. It started out as Native American grounds but the Dutch took over and it became New Amsterdam. Later on, under British rule, the Duke of York renamed it New York.

You know you're in Unique New York because New York is not like anywhere else! New York is known for a lot of things like its subway systems, architecture and sight seeing.

New York has a lot of trains featuring the A, B, C, D, E, F and G and the 1,2,3,4,6 and 7 trains. These trains pretty much go everywhere in the city (and that includes the other boroughs besides Manhattan).

New York is known for its architecture and can hold up all these tall buildings because it is built on bedrock. Bedrock is a particularly strong rock and that can hold heavy things. The tallest building in all of New York is the Empire State Building!

New York is famous for many other things like the parks, museums, Broadway musicals...even the pigeons. A sight seeing bus is a great way to see all of this unique place.

There is no other city like New York. Go and check it out!
