Common Sense by Carlo Piscane

Basic New York City people never ever use their common sense. Nobody ever thinks about anything.

Picture this, a person gets in the way of your picture so you tell them can you please get out of my picture? And nothing no answer no movement just them looking at you. You ask again can you please get out of my picture! Oh very sorry didn't hear you. Lie!

Well it all started on the weekend I was riding my bike around the park and there was a traffic jam of people everywhere in front of me. I rang my bell I said please move! They didn't move! I asked again. Still they didn't move. So I went around them. Right in front of me was a poor little puppy that looked like he was barely 2 years old. I, having common sense, moved around that dog but then my bike when falling over and I got hurt just because all of these people that were too busy chatting away in their own universe, with out common sense.

Ok well now that's over lets talk how bad it can be to not use your common sense! Well it can get you in trouble if you sass teachers which I did a lot when I was little, or if you punch or be mean to other people and this is common sense because every body knows its not nice to punch or hit or be mean to people but they do it anyway. Imagine this you get in to a fight with a kid because you think he stole your flair pen. He punches you then you go to tell an adult. When you're telling the adult and trying to figure it out… the kid punches again and just walks away not using his common sense. Clearly the adult is going to see that! Really we have common sense for a reason!

The thing that I really hate about using common sense is that if you lie and you tell the truth you will always get in trouble even after your parent say that if you don't lie you will not get in trouble at all, Lie! ☺
