

HUSBANDS

By Lea Vula

Husbands? Yea they're annoying. Unlike wives who are sweet generous and many other things, husbands are FILTHY, UNCARING, AND LAZY. Sometimes they can be sweet angels but other times...they can be a DEVIL! Yep those are the definitions of a wife and a husband!

Anyway wives always have to pick up every thing for husbands: their food and clothes. Wives have to take care of themselves, do work, the kids parties and husbands just sit and relax yep while the mother does all the work and clean when guests come over and the wives have to clean up for the husbands and kids, that's a big responsibility. If the kids want a play date or a sleepover, yep we have to plan it not the husbands.

Who has to clean up the dishes? Nope not the husband but the wife. Leave all the work for the wife. The wife has to clean the filthy dishes with dirt, germs and who knows what has been on those plates. When the husband wants food the wife has to go out and buy some. The husband can just have some wine and watch a movie while the wife goes and buys the food all you want. But of course after the wife can go wash all the dishes just give it all the dishes. It's ridiculous how the wives have to do a!!!!!!! the work.

But here's some advice make him work for you on Mother's day and your birthday. I hope my husband doesn't see this!!!
