

History Of The Guitar

BY HARRISON
JAFFE

Jimi Hendrix

According to Wikipedia Jimi Hendrix is a really famous guitar player. He is considered the best of all time. He was born in 1942 and died in 1970. He also joined the us army in 1961 and left in 1962 to form an R&B band. In 1964 he and his band went to New York City to meet elite British rockers but then at the age of 28 the young musician died in his sleep.

This is Jimi Hendrix
the greatest guitar player of alltime.

Do you like guitar? Do you like surprising things? Read this article about the history of the guitar.

Positive Things And Negative Things About Guitar

Guitars have a lot of good things about them and some bad. [Only one bad thing] Here are some good things: one you can play your favorite music with it like rock, pop, blues, country, and jazz. Another good thing about guitars is that you can learn how to control your hand movement and strength. A bad thing that happens from playing the guitar is that when your rockin out you might hit your mom in the head with the top. Here is one more good thing about the guitar: A survey in a 4th grade school at Manhattan New School showed that 28 out of 30 people said that guitars are one of the best instruments in the world. One even said it was the best and one of the worst.

How the guitar Drastically changed over time [Just saying that sarcastically]

Guitar has changed over time at first it was a stone carved guitar with fish strings that was in the time of the Flintstones But then when you have your guitar that you have today it is completely different. Also back than when the guitar had evolved from the stone guitar with fish strings it had 1 string with triple strings 1 string that was single and 4 strings that were double.

Gibson Les Paul

Even if you don't believe it it's true Gibson Les Paul was created by Lester William Polsfuss at the age of 13 in 1928. But in 1936 George Baughman created the guitar that we have today so the Les Paul wasn't as famous so than he upgraded it so that it was the same guitar created by George Baughman but added his creation in to it. So in 1948 Lester Williams and his new les Paul got their first two albums.

Top 3 Guitar Creators Of All Time

There are 3 main creators of the guitar 1 is Lester Williams Polsfuss who created the Gibson Les Paul, 2nd is Adolph Rickenbacker who created the electric guitar, and 3rd is George Baughman who created the guitar that we use today/ Overall guitar.

Timeline Of The Guitar History

BC

AC

2,987	1,287	0	1,501	1,701	1,801	1,936	1,942	1,964	1,970
Stone Carved Guitar Shape	Added Fish Scales For Strings		Guitars Were Invented [Not Real Ones]	Guitar Strings Use To Be 1 Triple 1 Single And 4 Double	The Guitar Had Changed	The First Guitar Was Invented	Jimi Hendrix Was Born	Jimi Hendrix Went To New York City And Formed A Rock And Roll Band.	Jimi Hendrix Died

Diagram Of The Electric Guitar

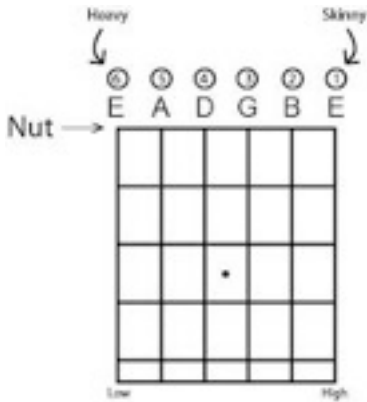

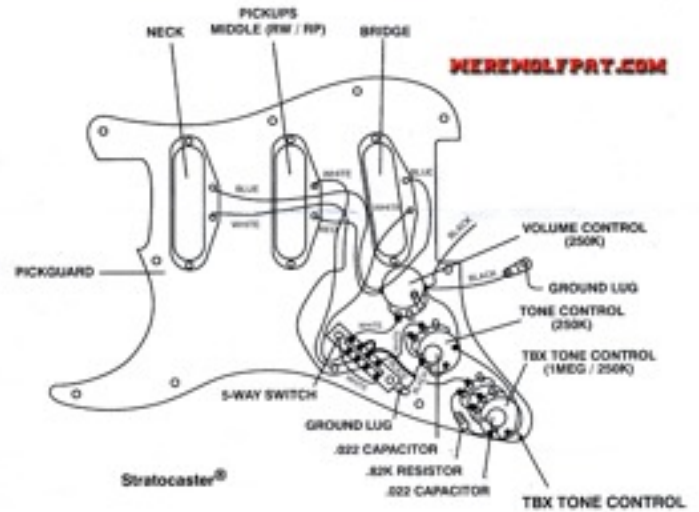

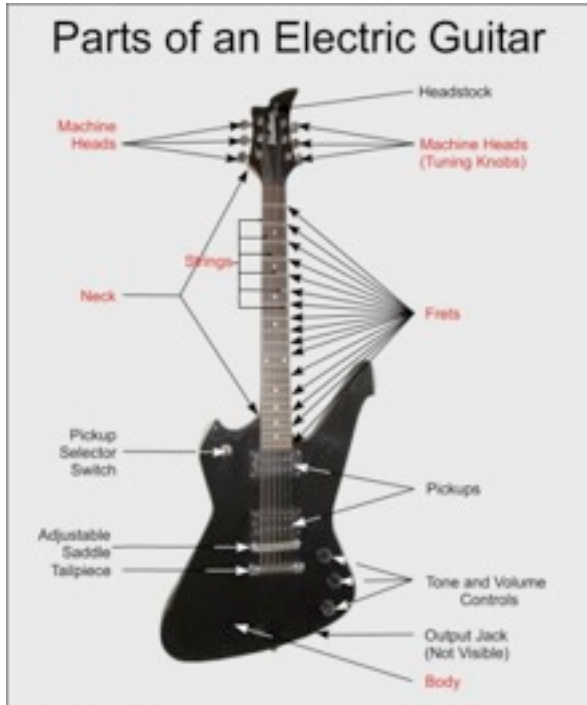

Diagram Of The Acoustic Guitar

