Will Haiti Ever Recover?

LIFE

Haitians are living in tents in Haiti. Haiti is by the Dominican Republic and Cuba, and it is a poor country. We should feel bad and sad for them for the way they are living. We should all hope that Haiti will recover soon. Also people in Haiti feel a little bit uncomfortable because the International Red Cross lives right next to the Haitians.

RECOVERING

A year and 1 month after the earthquake in Haiti on Tuesday, January 12, people in Haiti are still struggling to survive because food and water is hard to find. It's not just that, Haitians are also struggling because of the cholera outbreak. Already more than 100,000 people in Haiti have the case of cholera which can kill them in minutes, said the TFK reporters. The International Red Cross is on the way to help. They are people who help people who have a disease or if they are injured they are used in the army when they are at war.

WHAT IS CHOLERA

Cholera is bacteria found in food or water. Cholera is spread rapidly because it spreads through one person to another. The symptoms of cholera are you become dehydrated, lack tears, have dry skin, suffer from sleepiness, vomit and have diarrhea. Cholera is one of the most deadly diseases.

Places where you can find cholera are Asia, Africa, India, South and North America, Mexico, and the Mediterranean.

If you go to any of these places be sure to boil your food and water, wash your hands, drink tea, hot coffee, drink fizzy water and don't put ice cubes in your drink.

SUFFERING

Haitian people are dying by the minute. Cholera has left them without food or water in hospitals because of Cholera. Cholera has also caused the population in Haiti to drop because the people either die or move away. The cholera is effecting people because when people get dehydrated in Haiti there is sometimes no clean water to drink so you die. Haitians are also suffering because they sometimes don't have enough food so the people in Haiti are twice as skinny than the average person. It is hard for the Haitian people to live but let's all hope that the cholera will leave soon and that they will have a safe and clean place to live again.
