People should stop bullying because it hurts people's feelings. If you get bullied people go home crying because they're getting hurt about people bullying them. But this has to stop because its not fair. They're just kind people and then they get bullied by other people for no good reason. You can go to stop bullying.com to learn how to help stop bullying. People in the world sometimes want to help but they're afraid to help. People get bullied on the bus or in the streets. Anywhere. Most people hate getting bullied. They should not pay mind to it. If you don't care they will stop doing it. Some people don't even want to go to school because of bullying. Some kids love to go to school, learn and hangout with their friends but how would they do that if they were getting bullied. If you are a bully, think that the next time it could be you who gets bullied by some meaner kid. Some parents try to help their kids and tell them to tell a teacher. It's pretty mean and sad that people get bullied because they are new to a school. The bully knows you're scared cause you're new and you did not make no friends yet. But if you're new, find some kids who want to be your friends. Some don't but some do. Bullies bully yuo because they have their own problems. Maybe they have a bad home or their parents are mean. Maybe they don't have no nice friends. They are mad and sad and they take it out on you because it makes them feel better to be mean to someone.
